PROFILE SUMMARY

I am a dedicated and hardworking person with a Bachelor's degree in Information Technology. I am passionate about learning new things in technology and have practical experience in coding. I always try to complete my work on time and in an organized way. I am good at planning, solving problems, and managing different types of tasks with full responsibility. I learn quickly and work well in any situation.

WORK EXPERIENCE

- I have completed my Bachelor's degree in Information Technology, where I gained strong skills in frontend design, programming, and machine learning model training. For my final year project, I designed and developed a mobile application that combined technical expertise with creativity. This project enhanced my knowledge of app development, problem-solving, and model integration, while also improving my ability to deliver complete, end-to-end software solutions.
- In addition to my academic work, I have completed a freelancing and graphic designing course through DigiSkills, which helped me build expertise in designing social media content,, and professional thumbnails.
- I also hold a design certification from Canva, which further validates my design skills.
- I have strong skills in typing and data entry, which I always perform with accuracy and efficiency.
- I am also experienced in video editing using CapCut, where I create engaging and well-edited short videos suitable for YouTube, and other platforms. I always complete my work on time, ensuring high quality and attention to detail in every task I take on.
